August 25, 2019

Hello, my name is Mary Jo Monk. Most of you will know me as Kevin Monk's sister. I grew up in St. Jerome's and received my First Communion and Confirmation here. After Confirmation I was told that now that I am Catholic adult, I needed to participate in my parish, so I joined the Bell Choir which was always full of laughs! After high school, I was actively involved in the Catholic Ospreys at the University North Florida and my parish in Jacksonville following graduation. I am here visiting my family before I enter the Sisters of Life on September 7th (the Vigil of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary a.k.a. Our Blessed Mother's birthday)!

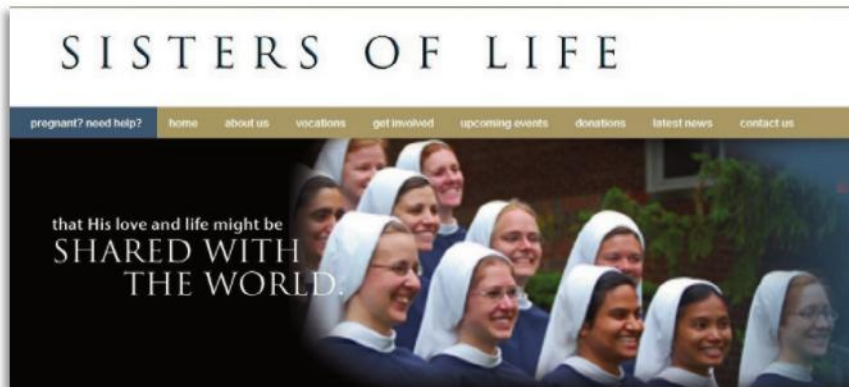

As a Catholic Young Adult, my peers and I are called to discern our vocation in life, discerning a vocation is just a fancy way of asking how has God created my heart of love and life on earth. We are all called to the vocation of spiritual mother or fatherhood no matter what our vocation looks like. However, not all of us are called to biological parenthood.

For me, I had no questions about whether I wanted to be a mother. It was first on my list. However, when I graduated from the University of North Florida, the Lord began asking me to broaden my definition of motherhood. I began to deepen my prayer life with activities like daily Mass, frequent confession, and attending spiritual direction. As I started to talk to the Lord about all of my desires and what I ultimately wanted for my life, He slowly showed me that religious life could be an option. I was hesitant, but I realized that being afraid was only keeping me paralyzed instead of giving me any answers. And the only one who could give me answers was the One who created my heart. He showed me how much joy and peace He wanted to fill in my life. Ultimately, He showed me religious life with the Sisters of Life would be filled with an everlasting joy by mothering all of the people God places with me on my earthly pilgrimage.

The Sisters of Life were founded in 1991 by John Cardinal O'Connor in New York. Their mission is to promote the sanctity and dignity of every human life. They do this through several apostolates including pregnancy counseling, post-abortion healing, and walking with people to help them see their true worth given as a gift from Love Himself. More information can be found at their website: www.sistersoflife.org.

Me and the Vocations Director for the Sisters of Life, Sr. Bethany Madonna.

Much like the seminarians, my discernment has just begun! I will be taking classes and undergoing formation to continue to discern with this community. Please pray for me as I begin this journey and rest assured of my daily prayers for you!

Question & Mission of the Week:

Question: What does a disciple's life look like that embraces the "narrow gate" that Jesus speaks of in today's gospel?

Mission: Create a kindly discipline in your life. Plan to take better care of your body: quite smoking, eat healthy meals, drink less, sleep more. Take unnecessary walks. Waste less time worrying. Spend more time in silence. Love more. Refrain from bitterness.

St. Jerome Catechesis of the Good Shepherd: THE SPIRITUAL CHILD by Lisa Miller, Ph. D.

Opportunities for Spiritual Parenting

“Spirituality is a way of living. Meeting kids where they are means you hear about mean gossipy girls at school, it means hearing about real disappointment of being cut from the team and have a spiritual perspective on it. The things that are so real and feel so big to them are not separate from spirituality. Meeting your child where he is also means a willingness to tolerate doubt and questioning about spirituality. Meeting your child also includes being present with love and interest to hear spiritual questions or hear about experiences that are unfamiliar or unsettling. When you don’t know the answer, appreciate the moment.”

Connect: Meet Them Where They Are

Sometimes our children will ask tough or painful questions, questions we may not have answers to immediately or ever. “But children aren’t asking for answers, really; they are working.” Give your child time to think about the question on his own before speaking. Children need wait time—time to process language and their own knowledge. “The ideal takeaway is to help the child learn to engage life on spiritual terms, to lean into a spiritual understanding of the world. We need only encourage the conversation, the openness and exploration of the idea, and be willing to listen with the same openness and curiosity that accompanies the question.”

Encourage the Conversation...

- “When I was a child I wondered that, too. I am so happy you are sharing these thoughts with me.”
- “You are so right that the things we do really matter.”
- “Wow, that is a moving and wonderful experience.”
- “Such joy and love! Please, will you tell me more?”
- “That sounds very important and I am so grateful you shared it with me.”

“Spirituality- an inner sense of living relationship to a higher power (God) that is loving and guiding.”
